

Site visit by Brain Prize Winner Professor Trevor Robbins Danish Neuroscience Center November 4th 2014

Danish Neuroscience Center is proud to announce that we will receive a visit from the Brain Prize Winner Professor Trevor Robbins, Head of the Dept. of Psychology, University of Cambridge.

Programme for the day

Chairs: Professors Jens Christian H. Sørensen and David Brooks

- 13.00 Introduction by Scientific Chair, DNC, Professor Jens Christian H. Sørensen
- 13.05 Talk by Professor Trevor Robbins on his prize winning research
- 13.50 Presentation by PhD student Freja Bertelsen: "What can we learn from an Autistic rat?" (The Preclinical Autism Spectrum Disorders group of Assoc. Prof Arne Møller)
- 14.00 Postdoc Maria Witek: "I feel good! The relationship between body-movement, pleasure and groove in music"
(The Music in the Brain group of Associate Professor Peter Vuust)
- 14.10 Postdoc Kristian Sandberg: "Decoding conscious vision"
(Cognitive Neuroscience Research Unit, Professor Morten Overgaard)
- 14.20 Presentation by Postdoc Alina Leminen – "Neurodynamics of language: From phonemes to grammar" (The MEG/language group of Professor Yury Shtyrov)
- 14.30 Presentation by Assistant Professor Annie Landau – "Preclinical animal model and tracer development" (The PET group of Professor David Brooks)
- 14.40 Presentation by PhD student Arndis Simonsen – "Social cognition in Schizophrenia"
(The Interacting Minds Center, Professor Andreas Roepstorff)
- 14.50 Concluding remarks and discussion moderated by Professors Jens Christian H. Sørensen and David Brooks
- 15.00 Coffee and networking outside the lecture theatre
- 15.30 End of the day